

Geriatricians

(Physicians with Geriatric Specialty)

A geriatrician is a physician who has completed a residency in either Internal Medicine or Family Medicine with an additional training in the medical, social and psychological issues faced by older adults. This list does not indicate whether these doctors are accepting new patients. Please call the doctor's office for that information.

NOTE: Rochester Regional Health and UR Medicine may have listings of Primary Care Physicians, some of which may be accepting new patients. Following are links/contact information:
